

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE December 8, 2005

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT

Please include in JANUARY & FEBRUARY calendar listings and announcements

Media Contact: Steve Waldschmidt
604.731.5483    steve@pacifictheatre.org

Pacific Theatre Presents THE HUNGRY SEASON — a Powerful Story of Faithfulness, Betrayal and Impossible Choices

Vancouver, BC – Opens January 27 to February 25

“What mother would sell her own child?” You might be surprised.

Pacific Theatre presents the Canadian premiere of THE HUNGRY SEASON by Jennifer Morison Hendrix.

A missionary couple returns home from Nigeria for the first time in seven years — only to discover that their daughters no longer know them. A powerful story of faithfulness and betrayal, of clashing cultures and impossible choices.

Challenging notions of vocation and sacrifice, this moving new play exposes the underside of the Church’s missionary glories — and our culture’s priority of career advancement at all costs.

THE HUNGRY SEASON plays January 27th through February 25th at Pacific Theatre, in the heart of Vancouver. Order tickets now – call 604.731.5518 or visit pacifictheatre.org. That’s 604.731.5518 or pacifictheatre.org!

– 30 –

---

MORE INFO:

This unusual drama features the acting prowess of Katharine Venour, Ron Reed, Erin Bourke, Lori Kokotailo, Stuart Pierre and Chy. Directed by the visionary Morris Ertman, with scenery & lighting design by Kevin McAllister, costume design by Nicole Bach, sound design by Luke Ertman and stage management by Connie Hosie.

“A unique drama... sensational.” – Seattle Post-Intelligencer

Where:	Pacific Theatre, 1420 West 12 th Ave (at Hemlock), Vancouver, BC
When:	Opens January 27 – February 25, 2006 (Preview January 26) Wednesdays – Saturdays at 8pm with 2pm matinees on Saturdays
Tickets:	$14 - $28 – call 604.731.5518 or pacifictheatre.org or in person to reserve.